

Concrete hollow-block making

Hearts and Hands Community Development has supported disadvantaged communities to construct their own houses & community buildings, using donated manual concrete-hollow-block making machine, education in its use, and the initial start-up supplies needed to start making concrete building blocks.

- Building a community income generating business

One brick at a time provides a home for each family, a community building and the start of a business and a brighter future. One brick at a time, they become self-reliant and develop great self-respect.

The community also learn budgeting skills which enables them to develop a long-term self-fulfilling existence.

Here's an example of what we term as successful assistance and support. One community, in just 12 short months, achieved the construction of three (3) community buildings and housing for their entire community!

With our support and encouragement, one of the communities went on to assist another fifteen (15) nearby struggling communities. Thus, raising themselves out of despair. A hand up given with respect and support, is the answer, not the traditional $ hand out charity model.
